

Announcement: Dharma and Sharing Classes Arrangements During the Haze Period

In view of the haze situation in Singapore, the Society has put in place the following arrangements for our Dharma Classes and Sharing Classes with effect on 19 October 2026.

| Activity                                                                                                                                                                                       | PSI Forecast on the high end is 200 and below.1. Green: Good – Moderate2. Yellow: Unhealthy | PSI Forecast on the high end is 201 and above.1. Orange: Very Unhealthy2. Red: Hazardous |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Chinese Dharma ClassEnglish Dharma ClassDharma Foundation Class《佛法概论》 Sharing Class《学佛三要》 Sharing ClassSunday Youth Dharma Class | On-site as usual                                                                                    | Online class                                                                                     |
| Sunday Children Dharma Class《佛在人间》 Sharing Class                                                                                                                             | On-site as usual                                                                                    | No class                                                                                         |

How to check PSI Forecast

1. Go to NEA website (www.haze.gov.sg) or the myENV app.
2. Look at the high-end value of PSI Forecast.
3. For example, the high-end value here is 220 and classified as “Very Unhealthy”.

慧嚴佛學會
The Mahaprajna Buddhist Society
UEN: S85SS0099G

---

Please note: The Society decides on class arrangements based on the PSI forecast. Even when classes are held on-site, please check the 1-hr PM2.5 reading on the day itself (on the same NEA website or myENV app) and decide for yourself whether to attend, especially if you are elderly, pregnant, a child, or have heart or lung conditions. If conditions are not suitable for you, please do not feel obliged to come.

These are precautionary measures taken for the safety and well-being of our students and volunteers. Arrangements for other activities will be announced separately.

Thank you for your understanding.

Management Committee
18 October 2026